The N.W. Executive

His Honor Calls Upon Mr. Haultain
to Form a Council—Six Seats
Vacant—Nominations on 26th Inst.

For some time past it has been surmised that a change in the personnel of the Northwest Advisory Council would be made, and that our member, Mr. J. H. V. Bulyea, would be placed on the Executive.

To-day we are pleased to learn that the surmise was correct and that the following have been approved and sworn in: F. W. Haultain, Fort Macleod; J. H. Ross, Moose Jaw; H. Mitchell, Duck Lake; Chas. McGrath, Lethbridge, and G. H. V. Bulyea, South Qu'Appelle.

It is expected that Hon. Mr. Haultain will be at once general and Territorial treasurer, and that Hon. Mr. Ross will be commissioner of public works and Territorial secretary. Five legislative seats are vacant, the members of Council all having resigned; and writs are issued for bye-elections. Nomination day will be about the 26th Oct. and election day one week later.

The Fall Show.

The twelfth annual exhibition of the South Qu'Appelle Agricultural society was opened yesterday in the town hall by the president of the society, Mr. J. Howden. Though a smaller fair than usual, owing to the absence of stock, the display of grain, roots, ladies' work, etc., was very good. The wheat shown was not quite as plump as in former displays, but was good in color and grades No. 1 hard. The display of other grains was not very large. One thing we noticed was a display of honey, something new for this district, and proves that the district is well adapted for bees. Next week we will publish the list of prize winners.

Supreme Court.

His Honor Judge Richardson, Messrs. D. Watson and Sheriff Benson, opened court here on Tuesday. Several civil actions were disposed of. In the cattle stealing case the prisoner pleaded guilty and is to appear for sentence on April 1st.

The October number of the Dedicator is called the Autumn Number, and its representation of the new Russian blouse-waists, tan-back skirts and all the other Autumn novelties in dress modes and millinery is made complete by a series of artistic color plates. The literary include a bright and crisp novelette, "A Triumph of Mind", by Anna Eichberg King, author of the charming Kitty Stories. Martin Orde continues "Clive Rayner's Adventures", his hero invading the apartments of a Russian Grand Duke. The series of articles on Social Life in America has a brilliant addition in the paper on Society in the Lower Cities, by Edith M. Thomas. Joanne Drake's New York Types is this month devoted to the Landlady. Dr. Grace Peckham-Murray discusses the use of Cosmetics from a medical standpoint. The page devoted to the answering of questions on etiquette has already proved a great success in the hands of Mrs. Cadwalader Jones. J. Bell Landreth contributes a novel and pretty "Harvest Drill" for seventeen boys and girls. Frances tells how the sweeping reforms introduced in Japan have affected the position of women. W. S. Edwards continues his instructions on Home Taxonomy; Mrs. Witherspoon's Tea-Table Chat includes a discussion of the new dispensation in shoes; Mrs. Vick's answers to correspondents on Flower Raising and Gardening are as helpful as usual; the Seasonable Cookery is devoted to some characteristic English dishes; the new books are carefully noticed and the needlework features, headed by Emma Haywood's Fancy Stitches and Embroideries, including the usual illustrated departments of Crocheting, Lacemaking, Knitting, etc.

The October number of the Canadian Home Journal more than realizes the expectations of its readers, who from the phenomenal improvement noticeable in the few months it has been under the present management, have learned to look with genuine interest for each issue. It is by far the best the Canadian Home Journal has yet given us, and in every way holds its own among the publications of the day. The Canadian Home Journal, McKinnon Building, Toronto.

CATASTROPHE NEAR FLEMING

A Threshing Gang's Exciting Experience in a Burning Building.

Fleming, N.W.T., Oct. 6.—An unfortunate catastrophe happened four miles to the south of this place last night about 9 o'clock, in which one man lost his life. Kyle's threshing gang was retiring for the night in the hay loft of a barn belonging to Jas. Kirby. The last man blew out the lamp, which exploded and caused a quick conflagration. The men all succeeded in getting out of the building but Hector McGregor, a man 35 years of age, who was burned to death. Much sympathy is expressed by McGregor's friends. He has respectable connections. Mr. Kirby loses four valuable horses buildings and a quantity of unthreshed oats; no insurance. Kyle lost $200 in cash in his haste to get out of the burning building.

Another Gun Accident.

Virden, Oct. 5.—A sad accident occurred here last night. One John House aged about 50, left home yesterday to shoot geese, but about midnight the horse returned with the cart, two spokes of a wheel of which were broken and blood all over the front. At daylight a search was instituted, which resulted in finding the body of Mr. House lying on an unfrequented trail about seven miles from town. His gun was lying about fifteen feet from him, one barrel loaded and in the other an empty shell. The body was brought to town about 6 p.m., and was immediately examined by Dr. Young, coroner, who found that the charge had cut red over the heart, causing instantaneous death. No inquest is considered necessary as there is no doubt death was caused by the accidental discharge of the gun. The deceased leaves a wife and family who have the sympathy of the whole community.

Spencerville Splashes.

(From our own correspondent.)
The farmers around here have just finished stacking, but very little threshing has been done.

We regret to say that Mrs. Oliphant is seriously ill.

Messrs. Waite and Warner, of Qu'Appelle and Winnipeg, visited Spencerville on a very successful shooting expedition.

We are pleased to see Miss Minnie Cates around again after the accident which happened to her last week.

The many friends of Mr. J. C. Starr will be sorry to hear of him having his face rather badly cut by an unruly steer.

Mrs. Hardy, who has been visiting friends in Moose Jaw for the past few weeks, returned home Sunday night.

Miss Mitchell spent a few pleasant days in Qu'Appelle last week.

Quite a number of Spencerville people attended the harvest home services at the Presbyterian church in town on Sunday.

On Sunday evening when one of our young men and his second best girl were attending divine worship in the Methodist church, some evil disposed person exchanged their grey goat robe and a valuable whip, which were left in the rig, for two very inferior articles and all efforts to trace them have so far failed. Any information which will lead to the recovery of the misplaced articles will be thankfully received by Mr. Jas. Alderson.

Geo. McMichael, whose broncho capsized with him last week, is progressing favorably.

A meeting will be held on Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the advisability of organizing a branch of the Epworth League society here.

(From another correspondent.)

How did you like your ride Thursday night, Billy?

Very little threshing is done in Spencerville yet.

Some of our young men complained of a feeling of stiffness after their bout with the whirlingig. How is that young man who was glued on for an hour and a half?

Good moonlight now for driving. What is the matter with the starlight?

Very windy these days.

MARRIAGES.

THOMSON—WHITE.—At Qu'Appelle Station, Oct. 6th, by the Rev. S. W. Thomson, B.A., W. M. Thomson to Grace Jeanie White, both of Hayward, Assa, late of Scotland.

THE BABY.

A grand old cock in the Baron hold.
Stalwart, grizzled and tall;
He sways away at the House wine old
As he sits in his rustic hall.

He has made a big gap in the Northern line,
To his old man's dismay.
For he has been coming along like an
Through the long, hot summer day.

He stares with a queer, look-at-me eye
At the objects in the hall.
And winks at the objects in the hall.
And winks at the objects in the hall.

And when Dame Margaret, his wife long dead,
Walks straight through the window door,
And comes to his side and strokes his head
With the old, gray comb of yore.

He feels no supernatural strain,
No funk disturbs his brain,
But he calmly leans back in his oak chair
For he knows he's "got 'em again."

The poetry, all that is ideal in the wide, wide world, is bound up in that one word, "Motherhood."

A woman's greatest happiness, her greatest duty and her greatest privilege is to become the mother of a healthy, happy child. Untold thousands of women fall short of this because of weakness and disease of their womanly selves. Either they live childless lives, or for a brief spell are the mothers of puny, sickly children that bring them only pain, and leave them only sorrow.

The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organs is certain to become an invalid. No woman can suffer in this way and be a healthy, happy, amiable wife and a competent mother. Troubles of this nature sap the strength, rack the nerves, paint lines of suffering upon the face, destroy the temper, make the once bright eyes dull and the once active brain sluggish, and transform a vivacious woman into a weak, sickly, invalid. This is all wrong. It is all unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a marvelous medicine for ailing women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity and makes them strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the nerves. It banishes the discomforts of the expectant months and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It guarantees the little new-comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits. An honest dealer will not endeavor to substitute some inferior preparation for the sake of an extra little selfish profit.

"I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription previous to confinement," writes Mrs. Corda Cuipeper, of Tanks, Cattle Co., Texas, "and never did so well in my life. It is only two weeks and I am able to do my work."

In most healthy families you will find Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. For a paper-covered copy send 11 one-cent stamps, to cover customs and mailing only. Cloth bound 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A CARELESS PRACTICE.

The attention of the Winnipeg Commercial has been called to the careless practice now quite largely in vogue of sending around sample packages of patent medicines to private residences without taking any precaution to prevent the samples from falling into the hands of young children. The usual custom is simply to throw the packages into the door-way, where they are left to be picked up by the first observer, and in households where there are children it will usually be the children who will discover the samples. Sometimes the samples are handed to little toddlers who may be about the gate or yard, when the delivery is made. In one case under observation, a package containing three kinds of medicine was handed to a child not more than three years of age, and part of the contents of the package was in the form of two or three pills, which looked very much like little candies and therefore very tempting to a child. Another package contained several worm lozenges, put up like candies, and said to be as pleasant

THE CARELESS And INDIFFERENT

Suffer Intense Agonies
This Month.

Many Men and Women in Great Danger.

To Such Mortals Paine's Celery Compound Guarantees a New Life.

The Great Medicine a Sure Cure for Rheumatism and Sciatica.

Thousands of people die annually of rheumatism, yet every case could have been cured if Paine's Celery Compound had been used in time.

Too many men and women show a marked indifference, when in some form, the dread disease commences its agonizing work. Some foolishly imagine that bright, warm and dry weather will banish the intruder, and they determine to trust themselves to time and circumstances. Others place their hope in warmer clothing and the use of liniments, while some experiment with electricity and baths.

As the days pass the careless and indifferent find themselves deeper in the mire of suffering, and they experience all the countless twinges and agonies of the disease. They have chills, pain in the back, quickened pulse, constipation, loss of appetite, coated tongue, and the joints swell—usually the knees, elbows, and wrists.

Now is the time of extreme danger. Now the sufferers realize that they are paying the penalty of their carelessness. Many will soon be helpless and useless; we shall see them with stiffened muscles and joints, and limbs twisted and drawn up.

Some will ask the question, "Is there really a cure for such helpless rheumatism?" We say unhesitatingly there is. The agent that cures effectually and scientifically is Paine's Celery Compound. It has cured thousands in the past—men and women of the highest standing in every community—and these have given the strongest testimony for the encouragement of others. Besides removing the cause of rheumatism, Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that guarantees a permanent cure.

Will you, sufferer, continue in agony and danger of death when such a mighty remedy as Paine's Celery Compound is offered to you?

Let us assure you, poor rheumatic sufferer, that the use of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound will quickly dispel any doubts that you may have. The effect will be so encouraging that you will be forced to continue with the life giving medicine till you are sound, well and happy.

to the taste as candies, one of which was said to be a dose for a large child. As these worm lozenges usually contain very powerful drugs it was certainly a gross piece of carelessness to leave them within the reach of mere babies, and that unknown to any adult member of the household.

Cured Nervous Twitching and Sleeplessness.

Geo. Webster, of Forest, writes: "For a number of years I suffered greatly from nervousness, twitching of the muscles and sleeplessness. I tried almost every known remedy without relief. I was induced as a last resort to try South American Nervine. The first bottle benefitted me, and five bottles cured me. It is a grand medicine, and I owe my life to it." Sold by Henderson & Parker.

W. C. T. U. Column.

The New York Times, a secular paper, says on this subject: "Every ship that takes mission to Africa carries enough poisonous rum and gin to offset in evil the good effect of a thousand missionaries. Since the opening of the Congo region, enormous quantities of this stuff—so vile that there is no market for it in any civilized country—has been shipped to the savages. Missionaries in all parts of the Dark Continent are now pleading with the European government for the restriction or abolition of the tariff. They will probably discover that Great Britain and other colonizing nations open neglected corners of the earth for the profits of trade, and not to spread the benefits of religion, and that the trade in bad rum and worse gin is too profitable to be sacrificed to what traders would call sentiment."

The truth is that the most inviting fields for missionaries who long to save the savages of Africa are the large cities of Europe and America. If they could convert the traders of these cities and the governments that encourage them, they would be of great service to the heathen who are perishing under the influence of civilization.

What avails it that the civilized nations of the globe have cleared themselves of direct participation in the evil of African slavery, if now with a refinement of civilization, they were permitted with one accord (for Great Britain and America are largely concerned in the commerce) to engage in a traffic which shall hold the African with fetters stronger and more degrading than any that he knew in the past.

So the dreadful tale of ruin, physical, mental, social, moral, and spiritual goes on. Mission work is made most impossible, for every fine instinct is blunted, and the moral character so demoralized that appeals to their self-respect, conscience, love of home, or virtue, fall like seed upon the unbroken rock. The greatest obstacle to day to foreign missions is strong drink; and strong drink is manufactured, bottled, shipped and sold to the blacks of Africa—poor overgrown children—by so-called Christian men.

Christian people here add there are rising to the need of petitioning those in authority to suppress this iniquitous traffic on foreign shores. The Free Church of Scotland and also the Protestant missionary societies at Cape Colony, are urging Her Majesty's secretaries of state for the colonies and for India, to take steps for the prohibition of the liquor traffic in the colonies where the church has mission stations. Is it not time that the churches of our own country, who are so zealous of mission work were taking a similar action.

If all Christians men and women in England and America were taking the right ground on this subject of temperance, and were ranging themselves in close ranks to fight the enemy which is so retarding the coming of Christ's kingdom on earth—then God! he cannot utterly prevent it—with what rapidity might the angel having "the everlasting gospel to preach to them that dwell on the earth" fly to accomplish his errand! Christian women, interested in missionary work, do not then so facts speak loudly to you concerning a work to which you have not felt yourself called! The success of your efforts is largely influenced and greatly lessened by the existence of this liquor traffic.

DEADLY KIDNEY DISEASE.

The Only Way to Avoid the Great Destroyer.

Once clear to the individual that kidney disease is a result of uric acid and oxalate of lime, which have their place in the human system, hardening and forming into stone-like substances, and the folly of treating such a disease with any medicine other than a liquid and one that will dissolve these solids, there will be little trifling with pills, powders and remedies of this character, which can not possibly effect a permanent cure. The success of South American Kidney Cure is due to the fact that as a liquid it immediately reaches the diseased part, and dissolves these alkalies and hard substances. It never fails. Sold by Henderson & Parker.

"It Fell From the Nest."

The above is the title of the premium picture given to subscribers of the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" this year.
